Mother Asks Government Aid for Drug Addicts

Pitiful Plea Made for Institution in Which "Dope" Victims May Recover Strength-Herald Praised for Crusade Against Illicit Sale.

An eloquent appeal for governmental aid to addicts of habit-forming drugs who desire to arrest the progress of the affliction, is found in the following letter from the mother of one of the thousands of unfortunates now in Washington.

For obvious reasons, the name of the writer, which was appended, is not printed, but The Herald will furnish the name privately to enquirers.

"When your announcement of the expose of this horrible business of selling drugs to poor, unfortunate victims of the 'habit' was made in your paper, and that you were about to open a crusade against it, thousands of heart-broken mothers, sisters, and fathers sent up prayers of thankfulness that at last the evil which has become so prevalent here in this beautiful city and elsewhere, and that has made almost total wrecks of their boys, is about to be eliminated, or efforts to that effect are to be made.

Extent of Evil Appalling.

"It is one of the worst evils that could possibly take hold upon the people of the underworld, who used it freely in themselves and fave or sold it to their friends. They peddled it around the city by messenger boys, who would be sent to them for it. Now this is not hearsay, but positive knowledge. It will take 'eternal vigilance' and great efforts on the part of the authorities if they really sexpect to break up the market for these drugs. At the same time, what are these habit-loving people to do when they can't get the 'medicine?"

"There is no free institution whereby these poor creatures (some with brilliant minds and good families) can go and be kept till they are absolutely cured and able to go to work. It is to be hoped that some steps will be taken in the near future to importune Congress to appropriate a fund for the purpose of erecting some suitable home in connection with a bospital whereby these afflicted people can be taken care of for at least one or two years or until they are fit to work.
